

“When You Need to Impress”

Vancouver Symphony Orchestra

Voices: Interviewee: female, late teens/early 20's, young sounding
Boss: male, late 40's, authoritative but not mean
Voiceover: male, deep but friendly voice, non-salesman
Tone: Job interview – polite, slightly tense but friendly
SFX: Shuffled papers.
Polite laughter.
Orchestra instruments warming up.

:30

Boss: Hi, good morning, thanks for coming in today.

SFX: Shuffled papers.

Boss: So, before we get to your resume, why don't you tell me what you like to do for fun?

Interviewee: Oh, well...

Hurried internal monologue: Please don't look at my Facebook photos...

Actually...

And don't YouTube saran wrap, chicken wing, pogo stick...

I'm a big fan of the Vancouver Symphony.

Boss: Oh really? What a small world! My wife and I go all the time!

Interviewee: How lovely! I just bought a student access pass so I won't miss a show!

SFX: Boss & Interviewee: Polite laughter fading in background.

Voiceover: The Vancouver Symphony Orchestra.
When you need to impress someone.

SFX: Orchestra instruments warming up, continue & fade to end.

Voiceover: Buy your $10 access pass now at VancouverSymphony.ca